

Dr Lucie Danti

Called in 2021 +44 (0)20 7583 9241

Lucie was called to the Bar by Gray's Inn in July 2021. Lucie joined Chambers as a tenant in October 2022, following successful completion of her pupillage.

Lucie has a busy court practice, appearing in person and remotely. She takes instructions in small and fast track cases, acting for both Claimants and Defendants in matters relating to road traffic accidents, personal injury and credit hire. Lucie is also developing a paperwork practice and accepts instructions to draft pleadings, schedules and counter schedules and to advise on liability and quantum.

Clinical Negligence

Lucie has a particular interest in clinical negligence and draws upon her unique insight into patient care and clinical settings, gained during her previous career as an NHS Doctor.

Her wide ranging exposure to a variety of clinical specialties enables Lucie to analyse medical evidence astutely and confidently. Lucie is happy to draft pleadings, schedules and counter schedules for clients in relation to clinical negligence cases.

Personal Injury

Lucie is developing her personal injury practice and accepts instructions for both Claimants and Defendants in road traffic accidents. Lucie is happy to draft pleadings and schedules in relation to personal injury cases.

Credit Hire

Lucie is regularly instructed to appear on behalf of Defendants and Claimants in matters relating to credit hire. She is experienced at dealing with all aspects of credit hire that arise during the process of credit hire litigation.

Regulatory & Disciplinary

Lucie has an interest in all matters relating to regulatory and disciplinary law, whilst having a particular interest in the medical profession and allied medical professions. Lucie has experience representing the Health Care and Professions Council in Fitness to Practice substantive hearings and welcomes instructions in this area.

Inquests

Lucie's most recent experience involved representing a family at a four-day inquest. Their daughter, had been under the care of an NHS Trust's specialist mental health team at the time of her death. The Coroner concluded that there had been shortfalls in care, management and treatment and issued a Prevention of Future Deaths Report.

Lucie has an interest in all matters relating to inquests. She has volunteered for AvMA and continues to grow and develop her practice in this area, which overlaps with her clinical negligence background and unique insight from her previous career as an NHS doctor.

Public Law

Lucie has an interest in Public Law and is keen to develop her practice in this field.

Testimonials

Following a recent inquest in which Lucie represented the family:

"[The family were] very appreciative of Lucie Danti's support and the overall outcome. I would endorse this. Lucie was very professional in her approach and had a good grasp of the issues, particularly having only been instructed a few days before the Inquest. I enjoyed working with her. She established a good rapport with the clients, addressing their concerns and obtained an outcome that more than satisfied their expectations."

Dino Skinner – Managing Partner, Healys Solicitors.

"Dr Lucie Danti recently represented me in court. In preparation for my court appearance she was meticulous in her attention to detail, not only in her thorough examination of all the evidence but in the delivery of that evidence, her cross examination and thoughtful questioning. She most certainly went over and above what I expected in terms of communication before and during the court appearance. She was extremely composed during proceedings and her calm and supportive manner gave me confidence and enabled me to see beyond the stress and anxiety that I was feeling.

I very much appreciate the knowledge and support I received from Lucie Danti and I feel very fortunate to have been represented by her."

Previous Employment

Prior to commencing her legal studies, Lucie worked as a junior doctor for the NHS, which has provided her with a unique insight into patient care and clinical settings. The role involved working within ward based clinical teams in a variety of medical specialties, coordinating inpatient care between departments and taking instruction from/liasing with, medical and nursing colleagues.

Personal Interests

Lucie enjoys jazz music, singing, running slowly and spending time with her family and Irish Terrier, Freddie.
